CRITERIA FOR VARIANCE APPROVAL

To obtain a variance, the applicant must demonstrate that a unique condition of the property exists to prevent compliance with zoning code regulations. A variance is not intended as an accommodation for a property owner's convenience. To qualify for a variance, an applicant must demonstrate that the property meets the following three requirements:

- 1. Unique Property Limitations
- 2. No Harm to Public Interest
- 3. Unnecessary Hardship

1. UNIQUE PROPERTY LIMITATION(S)

Physical characteristics of the property that are not generally shared by other properties – such as a steep slope, wetland, unusual lot boundaries, unusual lot size – must be evident that affect compliance with ordinance requirements. The preference of an applicant (growing family, need for a larger garage, bigger sign, etc.) is not a factor for variance approval. The property must qualify for the variance, not the particular situation of the property owner.

Describe the unique property limitations that prevent compliance with code requirements:

---

---

2. NO HARM TO PUBLIC INTEREST

A variance may not be granted which results in harm to the interests of neighbors, the community, and the general public. Lack of opposition does not mean that the proposed construction would not harm the public interest.

Describe why approval of your proposal will not harm any adjacent or nearby property:

---

---

3. UNNECESSARY HARDSHIP

The unique property limitations must create the unnecessary hardship to justify an exception to zoning regulations. The hardship must not be self-imposed; loss of profit, construction without a permit, additional expense to comply with zoning ordinances, are not unnecessary hardships.

Describe why unique limitations of the property make compliance with zoning regulations difficult or impossible:

VARIANCE SUBMITTAL - REQUIREMENTS

The Board of Appeals meets on the first Monday of the month at 3:00 p.m. in Meeting Room A of the City-County Government Center, 160 S Macy Street. Meeting agendas and minutes may be viewed on the City's website: www.fdl.wi.gov

The plan should show lot lines, existing buildings, setback measurements, driveway(s), and parking areas. Some proposals may require building elevation drawings or other drawings (new fence, shed, gazebo, etc.).

Timeline

Public Notice: Notification of a variance request is mailed to neighbors by the City Clerk's office. The notice explains the variance proposal and provides information for the meeting date, time and location. The notice is also mailed to the applicant.

Project Review: A variance request is analyzed by Community Development staff for zoning regulations and to determine evidence of a hardship specific to the property. The project analysis and recommendation is provided to the applicant in advance of the public meeting.

Board of Appeals Meeting: The applicant or a representative of the applicant must attend the meeting to present the variance request and answer any questions the Board may have. If the applicant fails to appear, the Board will postpone action on the request. Based on the facts of the case and using statutory guidelines, the Board will make a decision on the request. If a variance is approved the applicant may then apply for a building permit. A decision of the Board of Appeals is final. There is no administrative appeal process.

Variance Approval: A variance is valid for a period of one year from the date of the meeting at which the approval occurred. If a building permit is not applied for within the one-year period, a new variance must be granted. A one-year extension may be administratively authorized by the Community Development Department with the submittal of a written request prior to expiration of the approved variance, setting forth the facts that require an extension.
